HONGKONG, THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1908.

WHAT FORM OF GOVERN-

MENT?

We are in full and complete sympathy with Mr. Murray Stewart's hope that discussion in regard to the present form of local Government, and possible alternatives, will help to clarify views on the subject. Temperate discussion of any matter of public interest can at least do no harm if it does no good.

Consequently we are glad to find that Mr. Stewart, so far from resenting fair criticism, rather welcomes it as affording opportunity to make clearer points on which he might have been previously misunderstood. We trust that in this, and any further allusions we may make to the subject under discussion we will also maintain a temperate and judicial tone. Having said this let us state at once that our beliefs have not been weakened by Mr. Stewart's arguments. It might be well to recapitu-late some facts that may have been honours are with us. Mr. Stewart will surely not assert that a constitution is satisfactory which gives a chance majority in the House of Commons the power to utterly disarrange our finances and readers abortive an attempt to protest? Turning to Mr.

Stewart's letter of yesterday he lays stress on the fact that it is "seldom that our immediate interests have been submerged in Imperial purposes in such a way as to create a sense of hardship." He continues that such has now happened and may happen again quite independently of the form of our local institutions. We assume

Mr. Stewart means by local institutions our form of Government. Let it be granted that such submerging of our interests is infrequent. Would that fact make our immoral procedure moral?

Surely it must be obvious that wrongs inflicted on this Colony should not be endured meekly simply because they are not inflicted often. Mr. Stewart speaks of our immediate interests. Will dislocation caused by having to provide against the loss of a fifth of our revenue, and of consequential loss to an extent that cannot yet be estimated, will affect much more than our "immediate interests." But we can show that brutal—we use the word advisedly—disregard for this Colony's interests has occurred quite frequently enough to warrant a desire for a form of Government under which it could not possibly occur. What about the Military Contribution? Mr. Stewart must surely remember that the claim for a Military Contribution was made in 1864, at a time when public works of various kinds were urgently wanted in Hongkong. Mr. Mercer, the Officer Administering the Government, and later the Governor, Sir Hercules Robinson, strenuously opposed the suggestion.

Public meetings were held, memorials were signed by the Chamber of Commerce and the Chinese community and all the elaborate, but entirely ineffective machinery supplied by our local institutions was set moving. And the result? Everyone knows that when next year the estimates were brought forward the Military Contribution was passed only by the casting vote of the very Governor who had manfully protested against its imposition. The Home Government furthermore refused the advice of its Governors in regard to the regulation of gambling in this Colony, and by this means presented Sir Richard MacDonnell from placing our finances on a better footing. Records of the distant past are not attractive, but it was necessary for us to show that long after the Colony had recovered from "its birth throes" the Home Government persisted in meddling with its finances. Our contention is that with a representative form of Government (not responsible to it noted) this would not have happened. Solicitude that our morals should be improved, whatever it cost—us—would not have occupied so much of the time of the House of Commons. The tendency to interfere with our interests must necessarily be seldom indulged by the Home Government. A simple mathematical calculation will show how often one-fifth can be sliced off our revenue. Lack of space prevents us from dealing further with Mr. Stewart's letter in this issue but we will meet his demand for some tangible scheme of representative Government in a Colony placed in the position of Hongkong, later on. We have no doubt that when we put that scheme forward Mr. Stewart will find that he can extend it cordial support.

A Tientsin contemporary says:—Our local Consuls may be considered lucky in money matters (if not in love, and other things) as it will be remembered that one of them won the Champion Sweep at our last race meeting, and now we hear that another one has won the first prize in a National Lottery amounting some $100,000.

A bomb weighing 22lb. has been found in the hairem of the palace at Constantinople.

STEWART'S WINE OF GOD LIVES ON IS

It is a standard remedy in all civilized countries, for its superior qualities have made it world famous.
